U. C. FRESHMEN

ARE GIVEN A RECEPTION AT THE M. E. CHURCH.

And Become Acquainted with Berkeley Folks—Man Radly Hurt.

The Methodist Episcopal Church, on the corner of Allston way and Kirtledge street, was crowded with Christian Endeavorers last evening, the occasion being a reception tendered to the Freshmen of the University by the different Endeavor Societies of Berkeley.

At 8 o'clock, the hour named for the reception to begin the church was crowded and the strangers were becoming acquainted quite rapidly. Each of the guests had his name written on a card and pinned on to the lapel of his coat, while the home Endeavorers were decorated in the same manner. Formal introductions were entirely out of order, as one was expected upon encountering one that he or she did not know to just glance at each other's cards and introduce themselves.

After some time had been spent in the way of becoming acquainted silence was called while a cornet solo was played. At the conclusion of the solo, which was received with applause, the Rev. Dr. Bentley addressed the audience, bidding the strangers welcome to Berkeley, and assuring them that the stings of homesickness and the distance between them and their old friends would be changed for pleasure by the friendship and attention that would be bestowed upon them by the Endeavorers of Berkeley.

A vocal solo was rendered at the conclusion of Dr. Bentley's remarks, and then conversation was again resumed for quite a time, when refreshments were served.

It was after 11 o'clock when the reception was over and every one present voted it an entire success.

Fooled by the New Comet.

Where is Professor Swift's comet? There has been a mistake made at Mount Hamilton by Professor Holden in the observations of the newly discovered body, and the calculations of Professor Leuschner, therefore, which were based upon those observations and telegraphed to all observatories in the world, are all wrong.

As a result the astronomers the world over are all at sea as to the direction the comet is traveling in and when it is liable to strike the earth or some sun or moon or other planet.

As the Yerkes Telescope is not completed yet at the Chicago University, the astronomer throughout the world have depended upon the Lick Observatory to furnish full and accurate details of the comet. So Professor Holden had the Lick telescope turned on the comet, and whether he got the instrument turned wrong end to or was blinded by the reflection of the Milky Way or became confused over the signs of the zodiac, Professor Leuschner does not know.

What the cause of the mistake was the telegrams sent yesterday to the Berkeley calculator did not state. They informed him that a serious error had been made on Mount Hamilton; that new and more careful and accurate observations had been made, and that, to avoid any possible error in transmission by wire, he would receive the basic figures for his computations by mail. These were received yesterday morning and in order to rectify the errors that had been telegraphed over the world Professor Leuschner sat down to repeat his prodigious task.

Badly Hurt.

Late Sunday afternoon a bicyclist who had been over to Wild Cat Creek to visit the Reliance Camp, met with quite an accident just at the top of the grade.

The wind was blowing very strong and he lost his balance and was thrown from the wheel and struck on his left shoulder, dislocating the same. He also fractured one of the small bones of his ankle. He was picked up shortly afterward and was conveyed to a neighboring farm house where he was cared for until a physician and a hack were secured from Oakland, when he was conveyed to his home. His name could not be ascertained by the reporter.

Up To Date.

Admission Day, September 9th, will be celebrated this year at Sacramento in a manner fitting to the occasion. The Native Sons will have charge of the affair, and as they are composed of the younger men of the State, they propose to dedicate the young science of electricity on the evening of the day. On the 13th of July last electric power was conveyed from the initial point, Folsom, to Sacramento, a distance of twenty-two miles, with unparalleled success.

The power is developed by the use of water taken from the American river at Folsom, where a massive stone dam has been erected, giving a fall of eighty feet. The power acquired is equal to that of 4000 horses, and can be increased to an indefinite extent.

California has among her native sons some very bright young electricians, who will, as time progresses, make a mark in the world. The electric display which is to be given in the evening will be an encouragement to the younger element as well as afford the older people a spectacle, the like of which but few ever probably have seen.

There is no doubt but the management will do everything possible to make it pleasant for visitors.

An Executive Committee has been appointed of prominent citizens of Sacramento with Hon. Joseph Steffens as Chairman, J. O. Coleman as Director-General and C. H. Hubbard, Secretary.

The Muhler Case.

The preliminary examination of Louis Muhler is still going on before Police Judge Woods in Oakland, but as yet there is not much evidence being piled up against the defendant.

It has developed upon testimony already adduced that Miller is not the name of the supposed lover, but that his name is Veal.

It has also been brought out that the diamond earrings that were given to Miss Lewis by Muhler, or Veal, which is his correct name. It has been further demonstrated that Miss Lewis at all times gave evidence of a great deal of affection for Muhler, and that she kept him rustling to send her money for clothing, hats, shoes, etc.

There is no direct evidence as yet against Veal, but the defense expects to show that Veal has been getting the money and jewels from Miss Lewis, and that when he found that she was receiving the attention of Muhler, that he shot her.

As it is the evidence is not sufficient to hold Muhler to answer before the Superior Court.

That Gordon & Davis, the enterprising coal, hay and wood dealers on University avenue, next to Shattuck avenue, have just received a schooner load of hay which they are hauling to their yards.

That John Higgins has gone into the study of mathematics as he came very nearly being flim flammed twice this week, once by a newspaper man and once by a brewer. They could both outfigure him but they could not make him believe that figures don't lie.

ANOTHER MOVE.

TOWARD THE BUILDING OF WEST BERKELEY.

A Social Club to be Organized Where the Business Men Can Meet Daily.

The opening wedge of establishing the match factory at West Berkeley shows how quick matters will formulate when there is a nucleus for it to work upon. No sooner had that fact become established than the proposition of establishing a glass factory was broached and that is now getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Almost at the same time propositions and enquiries began to pour in to the West Berkeley Progressive Club in relation to various other branches of business and the Secretary is kept busy in answering communications. Applications for employment are also being made but local help will always have the preference and when the demand cannot be filled here outside help will be called for.

West Berkeley has been shaken up by the efforts of the Progressive Club and now it is very probable that a social club will be formed where mutual intercourse can be more easily had. A club of this kind is an actual necessity for the business community in every town that has got any life in it at all. It immediately becomes the headquarters where all business knowledge of the town is interchanged. A place where business appointments can be made and where business visitors coming to the town can be invited to and there introduced to the go-ahead people of the place.

All early information goes there as every person on learning new facts carries the news immediately to the Club rooms and it is generally discussed by those who attend. By this combination of individuals strength is gained and power becomes concentrated.

Already a list of names is being obtained for the purpose of organization and it is filling up fast. It will be the intention of this social club to give some kind of an entertainment at least once a month to which the wives, sisters, cousins and aunts of the members will be invited and thus families will become better acquainted with each other. Consequently that restraint and coldness will pass away and degrees of friendship and cordiality takes its place until the brotherhood of man becomes fully established.

It is to be hoped that this matter will be pushed forward while the idea is growing and that the fire may become brighter day by day.

Hannah (wife of Joseph Sykes) to George Grimshaw portion of lots 15 and 16, block 107, tract B, Berkeley Land and T. I. Association.

That people living in that section who want to subscribe for the GAZETTE can leave their names with Connie Newell, at San Pablo avenue and Dalton streets.

That Professor Holden who has charge of the Lick Observatory is not fit for the place, and that California now realizes what it lost when Professor Barnard was allowed to leave.

That Ramos and Renas never buy in small quantities, nothing less than a schooner will suit them, and they now have one discharging fire wood at the ferry wharf.

GAZETTELETS.

Prayer meetings will be held as usual in the different churches of Berkeley this evening.

Late reports from Alaska state that the raising of reindeer in that territory is now an assured success.

The U. C. Wheelmen Club will meet in the North Hall, August 30th, at 3:45 p. m. for the election of officers.

The Berkeley local trains are now fixed up with gas tanks and fixtures and will hereafter be lighted with gas instead of coal oil.

This has been a cold, disagreeable and foggy day, the fog denser than it has been noticed before for months.

An old couple who have been running a grocery store on lower Broadway, Oakland, lost their all by fire yesterday.

Everything is now in readiness for the revival meetings to be held in the large tent on Shattuck avenue by the Christian Church. The first meeting will be held tomorrow evening.

A GAZETTE reporter will visit the stock yards and factories thereto adjacent tomorrow and write them up thoroughly and thereby let the people know just what they have got in their midst.

The trial of J. M. Breen charged with disturbing the peace of his wife occupied this afternoon before Justice James and after hearing the evidence of one or two witnesses, the Judge dismissed the case, as it was nothing more than a little family jar.

It is currently reported that Berkeley will not be outdone in its effort to get the Wilmerding school, as a local capitalist has offered the Regents a block of land near the corner of Shattuck avenue and Dwight way. It is the general desire of the majority of people in San Francisco, Alameda and Oakland that the school should be located where it properly belongs, in Berkeley.

There is one thing in this world that in order to give satisfaction has got to be perfect, and that is a photograph. Naturally the artist who is thorough in his business and produces perfect pictures gets the trade. This accounts for the immense business done by Evans, the photographer at 1065 Washington street. He takes the finest cabinets in the land for $3 per dozen and has a large Berkeley patronage.

Governor Budd is reported as improving in health and is now able to be dressed for an hour or so during the day. His morbid sensitiveness about meeting people and his general irritability on the slightest provocation goes to show that his nerves have been under a much too heavy strain and are in a shattered condition which will take time to strengthen.

The first trial of the Valkyrie in American waters has led observant people to believe that if the light winds prevail during the coming race that the American yachts will have all they can attend to to keep the cup from going abroad. Should heavy weather predominate then it is thought that the Britisher will not be in it.

The newspaper men who met in convention yesterday at Salt Lake, Utah, under the auspices of the Utah Press Association, are having a grand time. Nothing in the territory appears to be too good for them.

It having appeared that the shipments of fruit to England this summer were on a paying basis, another train was despatched yesterday from Sacramento to London. It consisted of fall Bartlett pears, peaches and plums.

That people in West Berkeley desiring first class meals should visit the dining room at the Franklin House, corner University avenue and Third street, where you can get the best meal in town. The cooking is all done under the personal supervision of Mrs. Higgins, which is a guarantee of its quality.

That the Board of Trustees should put a license upon every phone that is doing business as a nickle-in-the-slot machine.

THE FIRST ONE.

A SITE OFFERED AND ACCEPTED FOR A

Bicycle and Cash Register Factory to be Established in West Berkeley.

As stated before in the columns of the GAZETTE, each succeeding meeting of this club becomes more interesting and draws out an increasing attendance. Quite a number of new names were added to the roll last evening after the President pro tem had called the meeting to order. President Spear was unavoidably absent on account of business, of more than ordinary moment, which kept him away.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The chair then called Mr. Ole Olsen, a manufacturer of bicycles, cash registers and various other implements daily called for by all classes, who was present, to make a statement in regard to his business. After being introduced to the members of the club he proceeded to address them in relation to locating his factory in West Berkeley and explained everything so well and satisfactory that the club immediately proceeded to take his proposition into consideration. Mr. Olsen showed the members samples of his work. Among other things was a steel tube which he uses in the manufacture to quite an extent of his bicycle. This wheel will only weigh fifteen pounds and is guaranteed to carry a weight of 200 pounds without any trouble. His business will not be confined entirely to this one article but will include the manufacture of dental instruments and orthopaedic apparatus. He is a thorough mechanic and has always been engaged upon work of the best quality.

A message was received from the engineer who was to lay his plans before the club of a practical way by which a ferry could be established between Berkeley and San Francisco, that it would be impossible for him to attend the meeting last evening but he would be on hand at the next meeting of the Club. Members of the Association who have talked with this gentleman and got his ideas pretty well, speak in a confident manner that something tangible will come out of it. They do not wish to say anything about it until the gentleman has had an opportunity to thoroughly express himself at the meeting of the Club.

Several other matters were informally discussed and will be more thoroughly talked over at the next meeting, when some action will be taken.

The idea was quietly suggested that an ordinance should be passed where by clyclerys should be made to pay a license as well as stable keepers, whose business the former was somewhat interfering with.

Much enthusiasm existed at the meeting and all felt as if the time had come when every citizen should put his shoulder to the wheel and keep the ball rolling, which the club had now got fairly started. The effects of the meeting were certainly of such a character to make West Berkeley believe that the sun, which has been behind a cloud so long, speaking in a business way, was breaking through and already there was a very good-sized hole through which daylight was plainly visible.

We learn that, this morning, the club committee selected for the purpose, has already made arrangements for a building for Mr. Olsen to use for manufacturing purposes, and the business will be well established within the next thirty days.

It is Said

That when the Mayor of Piedmont gets robbed he takes the trail of the thief like a sleuth, and never lets up until he bags his game.

That the Advocate has gone into the cheap lead pencil business, and then expects the advertisement and work of those who deal exclusively in lead pencils, stationery, etc.

That a suitable reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person taking the GAZETTE from the doors or yards of subscribers.

That Professor Holden has not yet been able to find out whether the new comet is running away from the earth, towards the earth, or whether there is any comet at all.

That Julian Harmon while playing in his father's barn on Woolsey street yesterday morning fell off a rafter and broke his arm.

That a Bull's Head supper is the inducement at Haywards that will make a number of the Crescent Bicycle Club make fast time in the races set for Saturday afternoon and incidentally the $75 worth of prizes.

That Bert Frazer will not wear large seal rings any more when locking up his store, as he has now got one finger in the hospital on account of catching it in a spring lock.

That H. J. Squires will have one of the best drug stores in the State when he moves into his new store in North Berkeley next week.

That the rush on Friday night will be a great affair, and that it will be witnessed by a large number of people.

That the class of '99 will have their class number up on the hill back of the University before the sun comes up on Friday morning, and that it will be well guarded.

That the GAZETTE has now over 50 subscribers in and about the stock yards.

That the Freshmen and Sophmores have purchased nearly the whole stock of rope in town with which to tie up their captives.

That a shower of rain fell in San Francisco this morning, and that umbrellas were in demand.

That the Board of Trustees will probably, at their next meeting, pass an ordinance imposing a license upon bicycles and upon bicycle dealers.

That Marshal Lloyd will enforce the ordinance making it a misdemeanor to ride bicycles on the sidewalks.

That the wages of the motormen on the Piedmont railroad have been reduced one cent per hour, and that this reduction will also take place on all the other street railways.

That tramps are now enjoying about $40,000 of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s money, which was stolen by Brady and Browning, and hidden in the Yolo swamps.

That Connie Newell has given up politics, and is now attending strictly to business.

That the Sunset Telephone Company promised the city telephones free for police and fire service, but as yet they have not materialized.

That if you are a subscriber of the Sunset Telephone Company you have got to have a pocket full of nickels to drop into a slot machine before you can talk.

That the people were thrown down in favor of the railroad at the meeting of the Railroad Commissioners today.

That there is an agent for the new telephone company now in the field soliciting subscribers.

That you will save money by waiting for the new company and will have quick service.

That the Holmes Library will still continue, whether accepted by the town or not.

That a resume of the freight shipped and received at West Berkeley by land and by water each month would afford people some idea of the wealth of Berkeley.

That Fisher's cyclery, corner of 5th street and University avenue, is becoming a very popular place.

NEW FERRY SERVICE.

For years there has been a spasmodic effort on the part of a number of people in Berkeley to awaken interest enough in a scheme to connect West Berkeley and San Francisco with a regular passenger ferry service, but after a little agitation it has all come to naught. About one year ago the matter was again agitated, and it was thought for a while that something would come out of it, but for some reason it was dropped very suddenly. Now the matter is being taken up again, and as some of the best citizens of town are interesting themselves in it, it bids fair to go through. The matter and its feasibility was made very plain at the meeting of the West Berkeley Progressive Club last evening, and it will now be pushed, we believe, to a successful issue.

The Southern Pacific has held a deadly grip upon Berkeley ever since it was allowed to enter its limits. It has, in fact, dictated to Berkeley while at the same time it has discriminated against it.

There is no town in California that the Southern Pacific runs through that feels the lash like Berkeley. Third street from curb to curb is given up to the Railroad Company entirely, and along this street their trains run at from twenty to forty miles an hour, as none of them except a way freight train is allowed to stop in Berkeley.

In East Berkeley they are allowed to run on the main avenue of the town, and they have just confiscated Addison street to lay tracks across in order to reach the new freight shed that they have just constructed. This track they have placed far above the grade of the street, so that crossing is now dangerous to life and limb. They have carried off over $300 worth of dirt that was paid for by the people of the town. They run their wild engines through town at a frightful rate of speed. They have a miserable little shack which they call a depot and waiting room at the entrance of one of the greatest Universities in the world. They run only old and second hand cars on the road, while in Oakland and Alameda they run the latest improved. They will not sell a ticket anywhere in the State to Berkeley, only to Sixteenth street, Oakland. They care not one snap of their fingers for Berkeley yet they drain it of over $5000 per month for passenger fares.

Our people cannot stand this much longer, as the burden is too heavy to bear. They have got to assert their manhood and they propose to do so by placing a line of passenger steamers on the bay between San Francisco and West Berkeley. Two steamers on the start would be sufficient and they would be well patronized and would pay from the jump. The Board of Trustees would have no trouble getting large sums for street railway franchises as more than one road would pay large sums to get a franchise from their present lines to the ferry landing.

Every person who resides in Berkeley is interested in this matter, and if they will all do their share we shall soon be independent of the Southern Pacific Company. Now is the accepted time and it should be the aim of every citizen in Berkeley to put their shoulder to the wheel and assist in having a passenger ferry from West Berkeley to San Francisco.

ANOTHER OCTOPUS.

The people of Berkeley are cautioned against making any contracts with the Sunset Telephone Company. If they do they will regret it, for there was ever a corporation that was practicing a simon pure bunco game upon the people, it is this same Sunset Telephone Company.

A short time since this company informed the public that they had reduced the price of their service to $2.75 per month for stores or offices, and $2.50 per month for residences. This was to include 40 switches. Most of the subscribers have had their long distance telephones put in, but they now find that they are only ornamental, because they cannot be used unless a nickel is dropped into the slot, notwithstanding the fact that a rental of $2.75 per month is demanded. They absolutely refuse to give you one switch, instead of forty, unless you pay them in advance for it.

If you ask for an explanation they tell you that at the end of the month they will refund the price of 40 calls, and only charge you for the excess.

We advise the people to be a little wary of this concern and wait a short time until the Commercial Telephone Company gets into Berkeley. It is putting offices into nearly every town on the Coast and as soon as it gets started in Oakland will come to Berkeley. In the meantime you can go to the main office or to your neighbor, several of you clubbing together to have a phone in one place, and save $2.75 per month by dropping a nickel in the slot of that machine. Wait we say for the new company or until the Sunset becomes reasonable.

THE RIGHT RING.

The Half-Million Club has got down to work in dead earnest, and they are going about their work in the right way. Knowing that they cannot get along without the press of the State, they have started in in the right way. They propose to canvass all of the large business houses in San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Sacramento and Los Angeles and create an advertising fund. This fund will then be used for their benefit in placing a three-line advertisement of their business in all of the papers of the State.

When all combine and pay a certain sum every month a large fund can be raised and the business of the firms that are advertised will increase one hundred to five hundred per cent. Their business will thus be placed before every man, woman and child in the State, something that could be done in no other way. Again, the people will then know who it is that deals in home productions, for now the people are in ignorance of the matter. When it is understood that every one of these advertisers are dealers in home manufactured goods, the people of each town will see that the town merchant handles only California goods, and consequently the newspaper will be the very best paying and reliable drummer that can be put on the road.

We hope that the Half Million Club together with the Manufacturers Association will carry this business to a successful issue, for if they do they will accomplish what they are striving for and California will be one of the, if not the most, prosperous states in the Union.

The University Philosophical Union will hold a meeting on Friday evening Aug. 30, at the Gymnasium at which time Prof. Josiah Royce will address the Union on the "Conception of God." Following this address will be remarks by Dr. Sidney E. Mezes and Professor Joseph Le Conte. The public are cordially invited.

The Grand Jury.

Developments are expected today in the grand jury investigation of the scandal in the Tax Collector's office. The grand jury was in session for several hours yesterday afternoon. They recalled Tax Collector Barber and examined him at some length. Rumor had it that some new features in the case were receiving the attention of the inquisitors.

The records of The Tax Collector's office were examined yesterday, and it was generally conceded that the grand jury is nearing the end of its labors over the shortage. Among the new women examined were Mrs. John Ziegenbein and her daughter and Dr. W. P. Mauzy. They were called to testify as to the payment of their taxes which had not been properly stamped as paid on the books of the Tax Collector's office.

Auditor Whidden was not called during the day, although he was in attendance.

The grand jury have completed a great deal of work since they have been in session.

Glass Found to be Porous.

That glass is porous to molecules below a certain weight and value has been shown by recent electrolytic experiments made by Professor Roberts Austen of the Royal Mint. A current was passed through a vessel containing an amalgam of sodium, separated by a glass partition from mercury. After a while the amalgam was found to have lost a certain amount of its weight while the same amount had been added to the mercury. The same result was obtained with an amalgam of lithium; but with potassium, whose weight and volume are high, the glass could not be penetrated.

Telegraphic Notes.

Quincy, Ill., experienced a hot wave yesterday. The thermometer ranged from 99 to 102 degrees.

ORDINANCE NO.—

Declaring it to be illegal for any person, firm or corporation to place or throw upon any street or sidewalk in Berkeley, any glass, nails, tacks, or other material, and prescribing a penalty for the violation of said ordinance.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF Trustees of the Town of Berkeley as follows:

Section 1. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to place or allow to be placed, to throw or allow to be thrown upon any of the streets or sidewalks in Berkeley, any glass, nails, tacks or other material, which may in any way tend to injure or damage personal property of any kind, or tend to injure or damage life or limb of persons or animals.

Section 2. This ordinance shall take effect from and after its final passage.

Section 3. Any violation of this ordinance is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding the sum of $100.

The judgment imposing the fine may provide for its collection by imprisonment for the time, at the rate and in manner provided by law.

Sec. 4. This ordinance is hereby ordered to be printed and published, with the axes and axes, for two days, in the BERKELEY GAZETTE, which paper is hereby designated for that purpose.

Adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Town of Berkeley this 16th day of Aug., 1895, and ordered printed and published as above by the following vote:

Ayes: Trustees Gage, Cripps, Martin, Durrell, Hoff and President, pro tem, Richards. Noes: None. Absent: President Rickard.

Attest: M. L. HANSOOM, Town Clerk.

Those Awful Telegrams.

"What is it, Mamie?"
 "It's a boy, mum, with a telegraph."
 "A telegram? Oh, ask him if James is killed!"
 "He says he doesn't know, mum."
 "Ask him what he does know about it."

"He says all he knows about it is that its marked 'collect,' and he wants his money."

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear! What shall I do? Here, Mamie, here's the purse. Pay him. Pay him whatever he asks. Oh, my poor James! I just knew something would happen to him before he went away this morning! Will they bring him home in an ambulance, Mamie?"

"I s'pose so, mum. Maybe you'd better read the telegraph."

"I can't! I can't! Oh, it serves me right for not kissing him three times when he left. And we've been married such a short time too!"

"Why don't you open the telegraph, mum?"

"Well, I suppose I must; but, oh, I can't tell you how I dread it!"

Reads telegram:

Will bring friend home to dinner. JAMES.

"The heartless beast!"—New York Journal.

A Liberal Education.

The late Professor Huxley held this opinion as to what constitutes a liberal education:

The man has a liberal education who has been so trained in youth that his body is the ready servant of his will and does with ease and pleasure all the work that; whose intellect is a clear, cold logical engine, with all its parts of equal strength and in smooth working order, ready, like the steam engine, to be turned to any kind of work and spin the gossamers as well as forge the anchors of the mind; whose mind is stored with a knowledge of the great and fundamental truths of nature and of the laws of her operations; one who, no stunted ascetic, is full of life and fire, but whose passions are trained to come to halt by a vigorous will, the servant of a tender conscience; who has learned to love all beauty, whether of nature or of art, to hate all violence and to respect others as himself. Such a one, and no other, has had a liberal education.

Opium Eating in the Orient.

Opium eating, according to the Maharaja Bahadur of Durbhanga, is largely practiced in Rajputana on festive occasions as a token of welcome to guests and friends. When two enemies wish to end a long standing feud, they generally go through the following ceremony: They each drink a small quantity of the preparation of opium called "amul-pani" from the hands of the other, and this is regarded as making the ties of friendship inviolable. In certain localities opium is consumed at funerals, marriages, betrothals and other ceremonies. Among the Kathis of Kathiwar it would be considered an offense if the guest refused to take opium on occasions like these. In the Punjab a large proportion of the adult male population take opium in small doses as a stimulant without much or any apparent harm. It is looked upon as a digestive and a very beneficial tonic for a man who has reached middle age.—London News.

Unequal Distribution.

"I've been reading a strange story in the paper," said Miss Sereleaf to her friend, Mrs. Snaggs.

"What is it?"

"It's about a man who came home after an absence of 12 years and found his wife married to another."

"What's strange about that? I've heard of such things."

"Both men claim the woman."

"Well?"

"Well, I think that is very unfair. Some women wait year after year for a husband who never comes, and others have two men claiming her at one time. I think matters are arranged very unequally in this world."

And Miss Sereleaf sat down and wrung her hands.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Afghan Ways.

The Afghans have a noble maxim, worthy of any stoic: "If thou hast, eat; if thou hast not, die." Unfortunately they do not live up to that, and in practice it becomes: "If thou hast, eat; if thou hast not, take." The ideal of a man is to live on his neighbors. The Afghans of the Khaiber pass lived for centuries upon the plunder of caravans till the British government enlisted these hereditary robbers as regular gendarmes and compromised for their right of plunder by a regular annuity. When a child is born, his mother bores a hole through the mud wall of the hut and makes it pass through, saying, "Ghal zai" (Be a good robber, my child).—Selected Essays of James Darmesteter.

It Makes a Difference at 2 A. M.

"No, gentlemen, I never have any trouble going home late. If my wife's sitting up for me, I stoop down and kiss her—forehead, not mouth, of course—and say, 'Why, little dear, you shouldn't have sat up so long for me.' And then I get off that old one about sitting up with a—"

"That's all very well for you," said the little fellow who had been fidgeting about for an hour, "but my wife is a giantess in a musee, and—"
